RE: 419 CR 770 hea

Your Honor,

I'm writing to ask the Court to appoint a different counsel to assist me thru the legal process of my present legal matter to avoid "a reasonably probable that a more favorable determination would have resulted in the absence of counsel's failing" (stickland v. Washington 466 U.S. 668) because "a defendant counts on his attorney to evaluate evidence under the applicable law, understand how it supports or detracts from the government case, and use it to advocate for him" (Taylor v. United States (S.D Ind 2020))

My present counsel has not filed one motion that I asked to be filed, nor has she gathered any evidence that I asked of her and her private investigator, that has caused me to lose exculpatory evidence and also extend my pre-trial incarceration. "Stichland emphasizes that the core of the 6th amendment right to effective assistance is a requirement that counsel stand up as an adversary to the prosecution and an advocate for the defendant (Stichland 466 U.S. at 685). I don't know how to implement different Court rules or how to file certain motions, my motion to suppress evidence was denied (Franks v. Delaware 438 U.S. 154 (1978)) and that motion is a key to my case. And this is why I'm asking for an appointment of a different counsel. Your understanding and assistance would be and is greatly appreciated, thank you for your time.

Humbly submitted
